

BURF Funding Calculations and Allocations

Capital funding of $490 million has been allocated among all Table A and Table B higher education providers on a formula basis taking account of institutional size and research activity.

The Australian National University received a special payment of $10 million recognising its unique mix of teaching and research.

The formula used for calculating allocations was based on student load (70%) and research funding shares (30%). This distribution reflects the core functions of universities' teaching, learning, and research performance.
